RE: Open Position for Project Manager / Engineer

COMPANY DESCRIPTION:

Wright Process Systems is an Industrial Engineering, Sales, Service, and General Contracting firm in the Food Process Industry, which operates out of Lodi to serve the greater Northern California area. We serve as a solution and system provider to our customers' mechanical, automation, construction, and developmental needs. Please visit our website for more information – www.wrightps.com.

POSITION DESCRIPTION:

Wright Process seeks a Project Manager / Engineer to manage assigned Industrial Process construction and installation projects. This position is responsible for a variety of technical and managerial duties, all centered on coordinating, supervising, and controlling projects from inception through completion. Assigned projects will be for Sanitary Food Process customers, and will require daily resource and personnel management, construction supervision, technical assessment, internal / external task coordination, project scheduling, budget management, and overall quality control with full customer satisfaction.

This position is full time with salary pay and full benefits, requiring all necessary time and effort to complete assigned projects. Project work will require time both in office and in the field, including all necessary travel.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) 3-5 years experience in Sanitary Food Process at a staff management position or higher.
- 2) B.S. Mechanical Engineering preferred; vocational or equivalent technical education required, for engineering and technical abilities as required for leading projects and quality control.
- 3) Familiarity with all industrial trades – electrical, mechanical, structural, general construction, automation, piping, sanitary regulations, process theory, and operational procedures.
- 4) Excellent organization, multi-tasking, self-motivation, attention to detail, and discipline.
- 5) Excellent customer service and interaction.
